

Capital city visit for school council

MILFORD Haven Junior School Council visited London last week.

One representative from each of the school's 14 classes accompanied headteacher, Lyn Rees, Fiona Thomas and Denise Jones on a tour around the Houses of Parliament, where they met local MP Stephen Crabb's staff and listened to debates in both the Lords and the Commons. They were able to learn at first-hand about Parliament and gauge similarities with their own school council. In the evening they watched the Lion King at the Lyceum Theatre, which they thoroughly enjoyed. The following morning they had a trip on the London Eye, giving them wonderful opportunities for taking photographs of London's landscapes.

Milford Haven Junior School is grateful to Milford Haven Town Council, Mainport, Amec, Nicholas Insurance, MDJ Windows and Friends of the School for their help with financing the trip, enabling the pupils to participate in such a fantastic learning experience.

THUMBS up in the city: School councillors and their teachers met Welsh MP Lembit Opik during a visit to London.
